Hello SENIA peeps,

Almost three weeks ago, over 100 educators, parents, and professionals, from 23 countries and 37 schools and organizations, came together to learn from experts, share resources, and network with one another. All of us were there with a common goal of being “All In” to create more inclusive schools.

All of us from SENIA International hope you had a wonderful time at the conference and enjoyed the experience. We also hope you went back to work, home, or your office feeling rejuvenated and ready to put new theory into practice and implement some new strategies.

Thank you all for joining us. From all accounts, the conference was a huge success as over 90% of you said you would highly recommend our conference to a friend. We are really happy to hear this, and we hope you do! 99% of you said the conference met or exceeded your expectations. We also want to thank you for your understanding in dealing with some of the transportation issues. Although this was arranged well in advance with the company, sometimes things don't go as planned, and we appreciate your patience and flexibility.

Thank you for taking the time to provide us with your feedback. We have read it over carefully and will implement much of it.

We would once again like to thank Bonn International School and Helle Moller-Sorenson and Kristine Border for all they took on to organize and host the conference at their school. It takes many hands to run an event, whether it's for 100 people or 1000, and we are thankful for those who went “all in” to help.

We hope to see you at our future conferences so we can continue to learn from each other and celebrate the work you are doing. Please be sure to check out our school membership and certification program as well.

Once again, thank you for attending SENIA Europe: All In! It was so fantastic to meet you all. You inspire us with all you do.

Hope to see you soon,

Lori Boll & the SENIA International team
